EVENT DETAILS

“On climate change, we often don't fully appreciate that it is a Issue. We think it is a problem waiting to happen.” - Kofi Annan

As we middle of 2024, we can't ignore the cries of climate, which threaten the very foundation of human existence. Nature has nurtured us for centuries, providing food, water, and shelter. However, our actions, like melting glaciers, rising seas, deforestation, and wildfires, show how poorly we've repaid this debt. Sadly, many of us remain oblivious to these problems, consumed by our desires. But there is hope. Nature has the power to heal, but it needs our help. That's where Global Innovation Leadership Center (GILC) emerges as a stalwart advocate and leader in Bangladesh's climate conservation efforts. This year, we're hosting the " National Climate " with the theme “Action of Youth for Climate Change.”

We extend a gracious invitation to all individuals, particularly those with a deep-seated passion for nature, to join us on this profound odyssey. The impassioned minds of our nation possess the extraordinary potential to transcend the commonplace and share their unique perspectives with the world.
